Improved Sports Program Here on Wednesday Next

With several new features and an all-round improved program, the postponed Empire Day attractions will be held in Jubilee Park on June 9th.

Although it was a sore disappointment to the management and a very large contingent of school children, the edict demanding a postponement from May 24th was issued less than two weeks ago, those in charge of the program have taken advantage of the extra time by making arrangements for additional attractions. These include a merry-go-round, which has been hired for the entire day. The schools have also been able to better train children for some of the drills, and it is understood that many hundreds of children who were unable to attend if held earlier, will be in Abbotsford and enjoying the fun next Wednesday. Reports from nearly every section of the local and adjoining districts say that the parents are arranging to grant the request of their children by having them in Abbotsford on June 9th. In a great number of cases the teachers are co-operating in making it a gala day for the pupils as the schools will be closed on that date in honor of the King's birthday. Advanced information says that a large number of children are also coming from Sumas, Washington, and other schools in Whatcom county.

The parade which starts from Jubilee Park about noon and goes down town to return again to the grounds promises to be a gala event. Prizes will be awarded for best decorated cars and floats in the parade.

On the grounds there will be concessions, games of various sorts, refreshments and lunches, also ball games, races and numerous novelty events all of which should interest the adults as well as most of the younger folks.

Dr. Plenderleith, Official School Trustee for the Matsqui-Sumas-Abbotsford area, has been addressing groups of parents throughout the district, on matters pertaining to education, and in particular, to changes being effected locally. On June 3, he will address the Huntingdon P.T.A., on June 8, Kilgord P.T.A. and on June 11 he has been invited to speak to a group of residents in the Clayburn school.

ABBOTSFORD

Mrs. A. McPhee spent the week-end in Vancouver. Mrs. D. McNeill is a patient in the Vancouver General Hospital.

Special services being conducted at the Pentecostal Assembly this week are being very well attended.

Miss A. Millar of Vancouver was the week-end guest of Mrs. Thompson and Miss Hilda Thompson.

Nels Olund has been awarded the contract for the erection of a house in Abbotsford for H. S. Andrews.

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. A. McPhee were her daughter Mrs. Ball and Mrs. Ball Sr. and Mrs. Head of Vancouver.

Mrs. Charlie Roberts left Monday evening for Nelson to join her husband who is engaged at one of the mines in that locality.

The interior of the Safeway Store has been entirely repainted and redecorated. New shelves and stands for the stocking of groceries and vegetables have been installed, and the store presents a very clean, modern and pleasant appearance.

"Joe" Vincent is a patient in the Vancouver hospital, suffering from a broken arm and other injuries incurred when the auto he was driving left the highway on Kingsway and crashed into a telephone pole. Two other Abbotsford occupants escaped uninjured, but the car was badly smashed.

Change in Hop Yards Staff

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cook and three children of Sumas Prairie moved to Seattle this week, where they have taken their furniture and will make their home. Mr. Cook has taken care of office affairs of Canadian Hop Growers' Ltd. at the Sumas Prairie gardens for 11 years, since commencement of the T. A. Livesley Co. operations in Canada, managed by Mr. H. N. Ord, who was succeeded by Mr. Thos. Livesley Jr. of Oregon.

Mr. Cook's duties will be taken over by Mr. Stanley of Vancouver.

Mr. Livesley states that the growth of the hop vines is very satisfactory so far this year, and there is every indication that the crop to be harvested in the fall will be equally as good, if not better than last year. The company has the same acreage in hops this season as in 1936. About 100 acres of land not used for hop last year have been rented to potato growers.

KIWANIS CONCERT PARTY GIVE EXCELLENT PROGRAM

A large and appreciative audience greeted the Kiwanis entertainers in the Abbotsford theatre, Monday evening, when a program of varied numbers was given under the auspices of the local Welfare Association. Too much praise cannot be given those residents of the city who are going about putting on entertainments with which to raise funds for unfortunate members of the communities visited. The entire proceeds are given over for this purpose—the Kiwanis entertainers not taking anything whatever for the travelling and other expenses.

The program on Monday evening consisted of musical numbers, a one-act play, and slight-of-hand tricks. The latter were put on by Mr. Shelley, former Minister of Finance for B. C. For nearly three hours the audience was entertained with quality numbers. At the close a vote of thanks was tendered the visiting entertainers for their very commendable act in coming to Abbotsford and helping out in this way the splendid work called on by the Welfare Association.

Conservative Elected Here Liberal Party Wins in B.C.

With a majority of 488 over the veteran Liberal campaigner, E. L. Barrow, Les. Eyres of Chilliwack, the Conservative candidate, was elected member for this riding, in the provincial election, held yesterday.

Eyres, in this, his first venture into provincial politics, led at most of the polling stations, and was given a 330 majority at Chilliwack. Surprising was the showing of the C.C.F. candidate, T. Luxton, in Abbotsford, where he headed the polls with 332 votes, over 100 ahead of the next return.

In total votes cast, Mr. Barrow drew slightly more votes than in the previous election; the C.C.F. dropped down over a hundred votes, and the increased returns of almost 1600 votes over 1933, were almost all taken up by the Conservative candidate.

Result of the elections shows the Pattullo government has been returned, with a greatly reduced majority. The C.C.F. have made some gains, as did the Conservatives, who did not elect one member in the last elections.

Last night a cordial reception was given Mr. Eyres in his home town just as soon as his election was conceded. A large number of his supporters with band instruments crowded into automobiles and came on to

Culture In The Country

Culture blooms in the country districts of the prairie provinces of Western Canada.

In the United States, Europe is popularly regarded as the fount of knowledge, of the source of the best in literature and the aesthetic arts. In Canada people are prone to look to the older lands and particularly Britain for inspirational direction and in the country districts of Western Canada there is a tendency to regard the cities as the seats of culture and wisdom.

But facts demonstrate the contrary to be the truth. On the farm and in the small town and village the search for wisdom and beauty is more keen than in the cities and it is there that birth is given to discriminating appreciation of the beautiful in the fine arts and this, despite the fact that opportunities for development of cultural attainments is restricted as compared with the larger centres.

It is true that in the cities one will find intellectual leaders and competent exponents of art, music and the drama. But where did they originate? In a substantial percentage of instances, the farm or the small town home will be found to have given them birth and is the source of at least their early education. Later, because of the necessity of finding an outlet for their activities they move to the cities and there is a steady infiltration of talent from the country to the urban centres. If it were not so, culture in the cities would eventually wilt of inanition and die for lack of revivifying material.

For even as the land is the original source of wealth, so also, is it the fountain of thought and culture.

As this new country becomes more and more stabilized one finds an increasing number of individuals and groups from country points capturing major awards at provincial and western music and drama festivals and often, where winners give city addresses, the credit should be given to the farm home or the small town school for the initial development of the talent they represent.

At provincial exhibitions one sees initiative expressed to a high degree in arts and crafts exhibits from small town and country schools and letters to the editor appearing in city dailies from correspondents at country points frequently reveal concentrated thought and discriminatory analysis to a greater degree than is found in effusions from city residents.

That this should be so need not occasion much surprise when comparison is made between the environment and life habits of the city dweller and the resident of the rural districts.

The country resident lives close to nature and has an unrivalled opportunity to study her manifestations. Indeed, to be successful, he must do so. He sits at the footstool of the greatest teacher mankind knows and, consciously or unconsciously, imbibes wisdom at the source. The natural laws that he learns here he must apply to his own operations. For this reason, if for no other, the dweller in the open evolves a process of deep thinking and pursues his studies to a definite conclusion. Such habits are naturally applied to the problems in which he takes an interest, whether they be those of his own business or in the wider realm of economics and social affairs.

This is the underlying reason for the close approximation to unanimity which usually marks decisions at farmers' conventions when questions of broad policy are up for discussion. The delegates have invariably given much thought in advance to the questions before them, have argued the pros and cons in their own minds, have come to a decision and know what they want.

In the cities life follows an altogether different trend. It is true that in his own business the city man has to think things through, but when it comes to wider social and economic matters, the average city man is more ready to accept the conclusions of others than to make his own. Not because he is afflicted with an inferiority complex but because, outside his own business, his interests are so diversified, that he spends little or no time attempting to solve questions of public policy to his own satisfaction. He sips a little of this and a little of that and in the process gathers little of solidity.

Montreal Borrows Most

But Home Improvement Plan More Widespread In Toronto

Montreal home owners have been the largest borrowers under the home improvement plan, but the use of the plan has been more widespread in Toronto, according to detailed figures made public by Hon. J. L. Hilsley, acting finance minister. After about five months of operation the total amount loaned had risen to $2,405,350 at the end of March.

Japan's Living Buddha

Conducted His Own Wedding Service Before 20,000 Guests

Performing his own wedding ceremony in the presence of 20,000 guests, Count Kocho Otani, the living Buddha of Japan and spiritual leader of 13,000,000 Japanese Buddhists, married a beautiful 19-year-old poetess in Kyoto.

The count, hereditary abbot of one of the largest Buddhist sects, celebrated ancient rituals that united him in marriage with Princess Yoshiko Tokudaiji, granddaughter of the famous Prince Kimihiko.

To celebrate his marriage the count distributed 1,500,000 yen ($420,000) to the poor while his tall bride gave away 1,500,000 classical fans to the wedding guests and to other friends.

The bride wore 11 vari-colored kimonos, each on top of the others, surmounted by a short embroidered coat, for the ceremony.

Trophies Of War

Royal Ontario Museum Has Some From South Africa

Ambition of many Canadians—but attained by none—during the world war, was to bring home the kaiser's helmet as a trophy.

One Toronto man, however, in the person of Vivian T. Bartram, achieved success in a similar coup during the Boer war—from which he brought back to Canada the old-fashioned, high silk hat worn by Oom Paul Kruger, president of the Orange Free State and head of the Boer forces.

As chief scout to Col. Sam Steele's command, Sergt. Bartram had a colorful career throughout the South African campaign. When the Canadian forces entered Kruger's official residence in Pretoria, Bartram annexed the defeated leader's hat, his tattered, bullet-scarred flag, and other souvenirs, presenting them, later, to the Royal Ontario museum in Toronto.

A Memorable Occasion

Malay Woman Was Once A Guest Of Queen Victoria

Mrs. Hadjie Edia Manan, a well-known member of the Malay community in Port Elizabeth, South Africa, recalled on her hundredth birthday recently that she had once been the guest of Queen Victoria at Buckingham Palace.

Mrs. Manan was born in Cape Town in the year that Queen Victoria came to the throne, and in 1886 she and her husband were delegates to the Indian and Colonial Exhibition in London, and stayed at the Palace as guests of the Queen and King Edward VII, then Prince of Wales.

On her return from England she migrated to Johannesburg by covered wagon, and in 1904 made the pilgrimage to Mecca. She still does the household cooking and still uses her needle.

Italy's Hollywood

Invisible Ray Worked

Stopped Four Cars On Lonely Road In England

The London correspondent of the Ottawa Journal tells this story: Some time ago one heard strange rumors of experiments by our military authorities with a Welshian invisible ray that was to furnish a complete reply to the new air peril. In the wilds of Wiltshire this strange story cropped up again with what seemed impressive corroboration of categorical detail.

My host, who has a cottage near Salisbury Plain, told me that friends of his were motoring across that desolate wilderness when suddenly without ostensible reason their engine came to a stop. Three other cars on the same stretch of road were similarly held up, and, like the one of which I got the details, were unable to find what was wrong with the works.

After a few minutes along came a police sergeant on a pushbike. He asked what was wrong, and was told the occupants of the car could not make out. Whereon he looked at his watch, and said: "Just get back in your car and wait. It will be O.K. in 10 minutes." And so it proved in every case.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a cathartic but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

New Voyage Of Discovery

Scientist Hopes To Get Valuable Information For Navigators

An Italian sailor-scientist, is planning to sail around the world on a new voyage of discovery in a scientifically equipped ketch, which carries an auxiliary motor and plenty of room for scientific and photographic laboratories and a library on conditions of the seven seas. Captain Sorrentino hopes to prove not only that a single competent navigator can make his way through most of the stormy oceans of the world, but that such a voyage will give valuable information to navigators. He expects to give Italy extensive oceanographic, astronomical and other scientific data. Moreover, he will be equipped with still and cinema cameras to make a picture report of his travels.

Dog Heroes Exhibited

Toronto's hero dogs had their day on a recent Saturday. All the famous dogs who had gained recognition for heroism that could be found were rounded up and placed on exhibition. Sir Bob of Cluny, a collie that rescued a man from the path of a street car, and Jumbo, who had pulled many a child from Lake Ontario, were two of the dog heroes.

Gets All The Scoops

Mussolini Reserves Right To Publish Important News First

Benito Mussolini, once a newspaper editor, must have suffered keen anguish when the opposition "scooped" him. He is still a newspaper editor, but with this difference that he is in a position to "scoop" all the other Italian newspapers. When his Popolo d'Italia publishes an important editorial regarding government policy, or some weighty official pronouncement, Mussolini orders all Italian newspapers to print a three-line announcement like this:

"The Popolo d'Italia to-day carries an important article on such and such a subject."

No other newspaper may reproduce the article until the following day, so Italians must buy Il Duce's newspaper to read it.

New Insulin Preparation

Medical Scientists Of Toronto University Promise More Effective Treatment

Research medical scientists at University of Toronto have produced a new insulin preparation more effective in treatment of diabetes than earlier preparations. Dr. H. J. Cody, president of the university, now on a tour of western Canada, told an alumni dinner at Winnipeg.

The new "modification" of insulin is known as zinc protamine insulin. It has been produced on a commercial basis by the Connaught laboratories, connected with the university, for the past two months.

Results showed that in most cases diabetics who used the new preparation had longer immunity from diabetic symptoms and required less frequent injections, Dr. Cody said.

Just Like A Horse

Brothers Invent Tractor Which Is Guided By Reins

A "giddyap tractor"—driven horse fashion—was demonstrated for Latter Day Saint officials near Salt Lake City, Utah, by two inventive brothers.

Spectators watched Bert Bonham straddle a plough seat, grasp leather reins and drive out upon a field.

When he pulled on the reins, the machine halted. When he released them it moved forward. A hard pull set the rig moving backward and a jerk on one rein turned the machine. "Just like a horse," he explained. "It's all in that little iron box behind the motor. One man can sit on the plough and yet handle the tractor up ahead."

Were Not Overlooked

Four English Workers Received Special Invitation To Coronation

Among the honored guests at the coronation were four workers from Britain's own tight little isle: Miss Lizzie McCulloch, a Glasgow weaver; Miss Doris Griffiths, who works for the General Electric in Birmingham; Leslie Pollard, a pit boy in a colliery near Chesterfield, and Elfaed Thomas, employed in a steel and tinplate plant at Pontardawe, South Wales.

All four received invitations from the president of the Industrial Welfare Society. The society's president is named Albert Frederick Arthur George and he also is head of a larger organization known as the British Empire.

Canada's Mounties Honored

Were Quartered With Famous Horse Guards In London

Canada's Royal Canadian Mounted Police in London for the coronation were barrack-mates of the famous Household cavalry in their Knightsbridge barracks that look out over Hyde Park, an honor said never before to have been conferred on an outside regiment.

The Household cavalry or Horse Guards are the pride of London. Mounted on black horses, the men are chosen for their looks and physique, wearing scarlet coats with gold breastplates, gleaming helmets with flowing white plumes and white suede breeches almost covered by high black patent leather boots.

Lady Astor's Mistake

British Woman Member Forgot Usual Procedure Of House

Little intricacies of procedure give even uneventful sessions a flavor of interest in the British House of Commons, says a writer in the Daily Sketch, who reports that even some members are not as well versed as they might be. For example, Lady Astor, the first woman to take her seat in the House, has been there for 18 years. Yet at question-time Lady Astor showed that she has not grasped—or perhaps she momentarily forgot—an essential rule of the game. She put a question to Mr. Morrison, the Minister of Agriculture, and he answered: "No, sir." "I'm not a sir," Lady Astor flashed back. What she overlooked was that Mr. Morrison's "sir" was not directed to her, but to the Speaker. No M.P. talks to another M.P. across the floor, but must always address the chair.

Canada's Poultry And Eggs

Gross Value In Year 1936 Estimated At $81,118,000

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimates the 1936 gross value of poultry and eggs in Canada at $81,118,000, the highest mark since 1931 and $3,063,000 greater than that of 1935.

It estimates the nation's poultry at December 1, 1936 at a total of 47,533,700 of which 43,491,600 were hens and chickens and the total value of poultry at $40,351,000 based on average prices.

Poultry produced 219,428,000 dozen eggs, estimated, compared with 223,540,000 dozen in 1935, but the 1936 price averaged 18 cents a dozen giving production an estimated value of $40,767,000 compared with $37,763,000 in 1935 when the price averaged 17 cents. The 1936 value was the highest since 1930.

Better Farming Methods

Care Is Needed To Protect The Soil And Mainly Fertility

Western farmers would have to take care or they would make a desert of the plains, said Major Duncan Stuart, of Calgary, in giving evidence before the Turgeon royal grain commission.

Lawyer and former farmer and rancher who has studied soil conditions, Major Stuart said rainfall was so light care was needed to protect the vegetable soil and fibre. The soil could be protected and its fertility maintained, he said.

Rotation of crops, use of fertilizers, more livestock and plowing in of clover crops and cultivation of trees would aid. This was the harder way, of life, he said, but it was needed more than charity or seed and other forms of relief.

Monster Telescope To Be Erected In California Will Weigh A Million Pounds

Albert Einstein and 100 other scientists watched the last bolt placed in the tube which will carry a 200-inch telescope mirror and they learned the great tube is going to be the world's first "sky cage."

It will not only house the big glass eye that will see 1,000,000,000 light years out into space—but its crew of astronomers will do everything but sleep in the moving tube.

As the tube swings across the sky, astronomers will work in a cage in its upper end, in a basket hanging beneath its bottom and in a big cylindrical room alongside its middle.

The telescope and its problems are so vast that for the first time the astronomical observers cannot readily stand outside and look through.

The telescope itself will be in some respect a more wonderful thing than any of the sights yet caught of stars and distant nebulae. The tube, about 75 tons, is a steel framework the bulk of a six-room house, and when its "top" is bolted on will weigh 87 tons and be as tall as a six-storey building.

Pressure of a child's hand will be able to swing this giant structure to and fro on its axis when it is finally mounted.

Furthermore the entire telescope when finished will weigh 1,000,000 pounds. Completed and set up on Mt. Polomar, California, the telescope alone will be a steel structure 4½ storeys high.

The astronomer riding the top will look directly at rays focussed from the 200-inch mirror 55 feet below him in the bottom of the tube. In the middle of the great mirror is a 40-inch wide hole and beneath this will be swung a basket in which other astronomers can ride. They will see the objects in the mirror after reflection back from near the top of the tube, down through the hole in the mirror.

The third crew of astronomical riders will be half-way down the tube, off to one side, where they can see reflections of stars brought from the big mirror by right-angled mirror arrangements.

Plans call for the telescope to be in operation in 1940.

Demand For Wool

Large Amount Now Being Used For Manufacture Of Uniforms

Two important woollen manufacturing officials of Boston said that "a considerable part of the wool supply of the world is consigned to armament purposes." They placed textiles alongside munitions in Europe's armament race.

An official of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers declared a large part of wool "already in process of manufacture into uniforms. Some of it has not yet reached that stage. If conditions in the world become quieter this wool may be thrown back on the market for lay purposes with a resultant drop in prices."

The price of wool to-day, highest since 1928, can be traced directly, this same official said, to the busy looms of Europe.

The international labor office at Geneva reported to a textile conference in Washington this month that, in Germany and Italy "wool manufacturing is now facing the same scarcity of raw materials as cotton manufacturing. Programs stimulating home production of wool substitutes, and maximum recovery of used wools and waste, have been promoted energetically in both cases."

Nepal Honors King George

Tiny Kingdom Between India And Tibet Sends Gift

A special mission from Nepal the tiny kingdom which lies between India and Tibet on the slopes of the Himalayas, called at Buckingham palace to present King George with a diamond-studded star with a centrepiece of crossed knives. It was the insignia of the Nepalese Order of Ratjuna, an order limited to royalty. The presentation was made on behalf of the Maharajah of Nepal by Sir Kaiser Shumshere Jung Bahadur Rana, leader of the mission. Nepal is the state in which lies Mount Everest, the highest mountain in the world.

Well Known In England

His Highness Prince Aga Khan Understands Western World Politics

Perhaps the best known of representatives of British India at the Coronation was His Highness the Prince Aga Khan.

Remote descendant of Ali, cousin of the prophet Mahomet, Rt. Hon. Aga Khan is the spiritual leader of the Shiah sect, one of the two great branches of the Mohammedan faith. To his influence was largely due the loyalty of the Mohammedans of India during the years when there was so much unrest.

The Aga Khan is astonishingly learned, possessing a knowledge of almost every current European tongue, and a complete understanding of the politics of the races of the West.

He has lived for the most part in England and has made a position for himself there unique among the princes of India. From his own country he enjoys a tributary income of nearly $2,500,000 a year. His horses are worth at least $5,000,000 and his vast investments millions more.

In recognition of his great services during the war he was granted the rank of a first-class chief of the Bombay Presidency, with a salute of 11 guns. In 1930 and 1931 he was chairman of the British India delegation to the round table conference in London and in 1932 represented India at the world disarmament conference at Geneva.

Deduction May Be Right

New York Economist Thinks Machine Overrated As A Menace

People who believe that machines will ultimately become a Frankenstein's monster and ruin mankind can get a grain or so of comfort from the deduction of B. M. Anderson, New York economist.

For it is Mr. Anderson's contention that whenever new machines have inspired fears of technological unemployment, this period of apprehension has invariably been followed by an era of improved conditions for workers.

He points to the 1925-27 decline in the number of manufacturing workers, often cited as evidence of technological unemployment. These men were not thrown out of jobs, Mr. Anderson maintains.

The workers, he pointed out, were absorbed by other lines. There had been a great increase in service industries, for instance. Concern for the esthetic side of life was reflected in increased production of luxuries, and in a growth of school population, both trends that accounted for many of the workers.

All in all, if you take Mr. Anderson's word for it, the machine is sadly overrated as a menace.—Sherbrooke Record.

Mother Goose Rhyme

Ancient Persian Design Depicts Cow Jumping Over The Moon

A 5,000-year-old Persian predecessor of the Mother Goose rhyme, "Hey, diddle, diddle, the cat and the fiddle, the cow jumped over the moon," was described by Dr. Phyllis Ackerman, archaeologist.

A similar incident of animal acrobatics is depicted in Persian designs dating as far back as 3,000 B.C., she told a meeting of the Institute of Persian Art and Archaeology.

"But the early eastern people didn't make patterns like that for fun," she explained. "They made them to encourage their hopes and quell their fears."

In the Persian design, which lacks only the fiddle, the cow hopping over the moon represented the triumph of heavenly forces and meteorological conditions favorable to crops.

Thousands Of Applications

There are 19,000 applications on file for civil service positions in Saskatchewan, L. S. Sifton, public service commissioner, told a legislative committee. They are graded according to ability, honesty, repute, appearance and personality. Although there was no examination in the province, performance was scrutinized closely before appointments were made, he said.

"What's wrong about spelling cat k-a-t?" asks an eastern educator. On the other hand, what's right about it?

This would be a lovely world if men showed as much patience in all things as they do in waiting for a fish to bite.

THE KING GEORGE V. MEMORIAL

A picture of the wonderful chancel in the Guards' Chapel, Wellington Barracks, where a memorial has just been unveiled to King George V. All ranks of the brigade of guards, both present and past, have contributed to the memorial, which takes the form of a mosaic step and screen in the chancel. The step can be seen with the name of King George inscribed in front.

Stories About King George

Colonel Scott Of Edmonton Recalls Amusing Ones

More than ordinary interest in the coronation of King George VI. was felt by Col. Louis Scott of Edmonton who recalled the time he ordered the sovereign—then Prince Albert—to get his hair cut, and was obeyed.

Col. Scott, prominent Edmonton militiaman and commandant of the Legion of Frontiersmen there, explained the Duke of York was assigned to his command during the spring of 1918 at the central school of instruction of the Royal Air Force in Sussex.

After about a month at the drill school, Captain Prince Albert broke ranks without permission during an unusually trying parade one afternoon. Rebuked by Col. Scott and ordered to rejoin the ranks, the prince obeyed and completed the routine.

At parade next day, the commandant ordered the prince "to get a haircut before next parade," just as a matter of discipline.

"He did," Col. Scott said.

Completely free from aloofness or snobbery, the Duke of York entered into the spirit of the games with fellow cadets and was rated as a good sport, the Edmonton officer added.

"Deadhead," the term used to designate a person who is admitted or transported on a pass, is a literal translation of the Latin phrase "caput mortuum."

People used to believe in going places and seeing things. Now they go places so fast that they haven't a chance to be seeing things.

Visits Moose River

Alfred Scadding Again Sees Scene Of Mine Disaster

Alfred Scadding hobbled out of an automobile to see once again the mining community of Moose River, Nova Scotia, with which his name will always be linked.

Scadding, back at the spot where for 10 days a year ago he was entombed 141 feet underground with Dr. D. E. Robertson, Toronto, and Herman Magill, who died before draegermen released them, arrived in triumph. The townsfolk demanded he show them how he could walk. His toes were amputated due to "trench feet" suffered in his long entombment. Scadding obliged and was then placed in a car and driven through the town.

Just Matter Of Age

A German medical authority has expressed the opinion that persons possessing blue eyes live longer than those with brown. Another doctor agrees with him as to the longer life of the blue-eyed. Medical opinion in this country is, however, observing caution in this matter, refusing to generalize, putting forward the theory that eyes grow paler with age, which would make dark eyes relatively less common.

This Lace Stands the Test of Time

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

You'll Have Fun Crocheting These

PATTERN 5850

Little stitches into Splendor grow—when it's a crocheted spread you're working on. Here's lace that stands the test of Time—just simple six-sided medallions that you crochet individually in string, and join for a stunning "repeat" design. Doesn't the thought of owning a dinner cloth of this make your fingers itch to get started? You can make smaller articles, too, using finer cotton. (In string, the medallion's 8½ inches from point to point.) In pattern 5850 you will find complete instructions for making the medallion shown; an illustration of it and of all stitches used; a photograph of the medallion in almost actual size; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave. E., Winnipeg.

There is no Alice Brooks pattern book published.

Cash And Carry System Is Introduced In Bill To Keep U. S. Neutral In War

Creating A Profession

Glaring Mistakes In Movies Call For Technical Advisor

Hunting movie boners, the game thousands of fans love to play, is creating a well-paid profession in Hollywood—the technical advisor.

A flood of critical letters now follows even a slight mistake on the screen. The theme of the writers is "how could you be so dumb?"

To-day inquiry disclosed that such an old-time subject as the Royal Canadian Mounted Police isn't being filmed any more until an expert looks over the script. Bruce Carruthers, an ex-mountie, just has finished this job for a two-reeler. He spotted two-score mistakes.

The first scene for the troop, while on horses, was to salute the flag. "The men do not salute mounted," suggested Carruthers, "they merely sit strictly at attention."

Another sequence called for the sergeant, on meeting a fur-draped girl, to declare, "that silver fox pelt sets you off like a million pounds."

"He should say 'dollars,'" the expert corrected. "No woman would like to look so heavy."

His final suggestion was not technically a part of his job. He happened to notice it and threw it in gratis.

A Scottish fur trader, Angus, was admiring a pelt and commented "finest I've seen in 20 years around here, mon."

All wrong, pointed out the expert. If Angus was a Scot and a trader, he would be sure to say, "Oh, I dinna know that it's such a good pelt. I've seen better many times."

Long Speeches

Various Methods Used To Put An End To Tiresome Harangues

The little incident at a Swinburne commemorative meeting at the end of which the chairman informed a speaker that he was "going on much too long" may well raise again the question whether a tactful way of stopping a long-winded orator has ever been discovered. "A saint in the pulpit!" said a gushing woman to Bishop Stubbs after he had been suffering under a very long sermon. "And a martyr in the pew!" groaned Stubbs.

The "good" Lord Shaftesbury, however, most famous of Evangelical chairmen, made no bones about it. Seizing the orator firmly by the coat-tails he would say in widely audible tones, "My dear fellow, are you never going to stop? We shall be here all night."

The House of Commons has had various ways of dealing with prolixity, none of them very tactful. Far back in history we hear that "an old doctor of civil law spoke, but because he spoke too long and too low the House hawked and spat to make him make an end." In 1601 a Sergeant Heale spoke too long and was silenced at last by "hemming." A few years later it was necessary to condemn the practice of hissing. Cock-crowing was a method of a century ago. "Vide! Vide!" is the modern equivalent. — Manchester Guardian.

Succeeded Second Time

Old Letter Gave English Captain Place At Coronation

Captain Haskett Smith, King's Messenger, and one of the most charming and cultured men one could meet anywhere, tells the romantic circumstances leading to his attendance at the Coronation as Gold Staff Officer. At the time of the preparations for the Coronation of King George V, he was abroad and only returned to England a few weeks previous to Coronation Day. He hastened to send in his application to the Earl Marshal, but in reply received a kind note explaining that it was impossible at that late hour to include any further names among those to be summoned. At the same time he was advised that when he was an older man he should apply for inclusion among the guests at the next Coronation. For 25 years he kept this letter; and this year he sent it to the present Duke of Norfolk, son of the Earl Marshal, to whom he had previously applied. As a result Captain Haskett Smith took his place among the Gold Staff Officers on May 12.

Hurricanes which blow at a rate of 80 miles an hour exert a pressure of 32 pounds a square foot.

London's last British Industries Fair was the most profitable since 1928.

New legislation to keep the United States neutral in war time and containing a provision that could prevent serious disruption of Canadian-American trade should Canada and Britain be engaged in a war which offered no threat to American neutrality, received quick Congressional approval.

Chief feature of the bill, the "cash and carry" clause, would give the President discretionary power during the next two years to prohibit shipment of any goods to warring nations until title to them has been transferred to the purchasers.

The Senate wanted the plan to go into operation immediately war broke out, but the House wished to lodge some discretion with the President in putting the system into operation.

As worked out in conference, the measure would require the President to use the cash and carry system whenever he found that step necessary "to promote the security or preserve the peace of the United States or to protect the lives of commerce of citizens."

Conferees agreed to give him discretion in order that trade with Canada, for instance, might not be destroyed unnecessarily in event the Dominion were allied with Britain in a war that offered no threat to United States neutrality.

In addition, the President would be allowed to make any limitation and exceptions he might see fit in respect to "lakes, rivers and inland waters bordering on the United States, and as to transportation on or over lands bordering on the United States."

Adoption by the United States of the so-called "cash and carry neutrality bill" follows closely upon passage of a Dominion statute which gives the Government even greater powers to control commerce in all materials used in war.

Where the United States legislation will provide that belligerents buying war supplies in that country must pay cash and take delivery at the United States shipping port, the Canadian statute gives the Government power to license the manufacture, transportation and exportation of all forms of materials used in war, including foodstuffs.

These powers would be assumed by the Government in the event of warfare on a scale that would indicate the necessity of such action. All that would be necessary would be adoption of an order-in-council. Amendments to the Customs Act, passed at the recent session of Parliament, contained the necessary provisions and they occasioned very little opposition.

At the same time the Government is studying ways and means to control, by legislation, the amount of profits that may be permitted to arise from manufacture and trade in war materials.

Using Substitute Flour

Germany's Move To Overcome Grain Shortage Causing Complaints

Substitute flour used in Germany to overcome the grain shortage has been the subject of complaints throughout the country, the official newspaper Korrespondenz said.

The Nazi party organ insisted that although the substitute was slightly darker in color and not as tasty as real flour, its nourishing qualities more than made up for its shortcomings.

The paper described three kinds of flour available in the reich. The first—type 502—is high quality flour, which must be used sparingly.

Type 8121, the second kind, is recommended by the newspaper for general use. It added that potato starch and corn starch had been added to this type of flour to make it whiter.

The third kind of flour—type 1050—has provoked some concern, "but it is better than its reputation," the paper said.

Rules Of The Court

When a bareheaded woman appeared in the witness box at Clanwilliam, South Africa, the magistrate, C. J. Lemmer, reprimanded her. Court rules, he said, required that a woman must wear a hat, and he added that no matter what the fashion of the moment might be, a woman must wear a hat in his court.

LIBRARY NOTES

Among the books recently added to the collection of the Fraser Valley Union Library are the following which are briefly reviewed.

Around the World in Eighteen Days and How to Do It—Ekins, H. R.
A Jules-Verne account of a race around the world by a reporter on the staff of the New York World-Telegram who, using commercial airlines all the way, completed the journey from New York to New York in 18 days and 11 hours, beating rival reporters from two other newspapers by more than 6 days. Written in journalistic fashion, the book makes entertaining reading.

Five Minute Biographies—Carnegie Dale.
Author of current best-seller "How to win friends and influence people," he is likely to duplicate his success with this volume of short, pithy and somewhat sensational sketches of persons who are, or once were, very much in the public eye. Each chapter is headed with an arresting caption which is typical of the lively way he treats his subjects. The section on Mussolini, for example, is entitled:
"He used to keep bombs in the stove, but he won't risk sleeping with moonlight on his face"; and that on Rockefeller "She turned him down because he had no fine prospects" - his name was John D.". There isn't a dull paragraph in the book.

Canada - Siegfried, Andre
An important interpretative work by a famous French economist, who sets for himself the task of describing "the international position of Canada in the economic and political equilibrium of the twentieth century." He makes a careful analysis of our geography, demography, economic and political life, and expresses many ideas that have heretofore been very clear to us. He considers the twin influences of England, on the one hand, and the United States on the other, and concludes that though like Belgium, and for similar reasons, Canada
"remains a precarious creation," yet she may continue her political personality for many years to come. Siegfried's most significant statement is probably this: "Apart from mortal danger to England, the latent temptation to isolate herself in North America is perhaps the real tendency in Canada, and the one that goes deepest."

This England - Chase, Mary Ellen Thirteen sketches descriptive of the English people and countryside written by an American woman who is both critical and appreciative in her treatment. An extremely readable book.

RESIDENT OF MT. LEHMAN FOR 50 YEARS, J. MORRISON PASSES

There passed peacefully away at his residence in Mt. Lehman, Wednesday afternoon last, John Archibald
Morrison, in his 73rd year.

The deceased was born in Inverness county, Nova Scotia and came to Mt.
Lehman at the age of 22, where he had resided up to the time of his death. He was one of the first settlers in this section of the province, and was quite an active farmer until only a few weeks ago when signs of failing health became noticeable. On May 2nd Mr. Morrison suffered a paralytic stroke.

The late Mr. Morrison was a very successful farmer and keenly interested in legitimate moves to better the lot of those who carried on that avocation. For some years he was an active member of the Farmers' Institute in his locality which elected him as vice-president at the last annual meeting.

Surviving are his wife, four step daughters, four step sons, two sisters, Mrs. L. McKinnon of Mt. Lehman, and Mrs. Mary Morrison of Nova Scotia, two brothers, Mr. M. D. Morrison of Mt. Lehman, and Mr. Peter Morrison of Nova Scotia.

The funeral, which was held on Saturday from the residence to Aberdeen cemetery, was attended by more than 300 old-time residents of the Valley. Officiating minister was Rev. C.
A. Mitchell, assisted by Revs. Herbison and Knox. The pallbearers were
T. A. Jackson, R. P. Jackson, H. E.
Jackson, L. S. Jackson, H. Gillis and
D. Nicholas.

CORONATION DAY SUCCESS

Editor News:
On behalf of the Coronation Day Committee, I wish to thank all those people in the Matsqui, Sumas and Abbotsford districts, who so generously contributed to the various subscription lists and who helped to make the day a success. I also wish to thank the teachers of the M.-S.-A. area for their fine co-operation in this connection. Without the support of the people of Abbotsford and the surrounding districts, the Celebration of May 12th could not possibly have been the great success which it was.

MEASLES, SCARLET FEVER
(By Miss Miles, P.H.N.)
At the present time there are 64 cases of measles in the Sumas Area, 1 case in Abbotsford and 1 case in Mt. Lehman. This means that parents in the affected area must watch their children for a brassy cough, running nose, and sore eyes, all of which or any one of which, may mean the first symptoms of measles. If your child develops any of these symptoms, please keep him at home and notify the school nurse or your doctor. Unfortunately, with measles the child is infectious three or four days before the rash appears, making it exceedingly difficult to control the infection.
In the case of measles, it is not the actual attack which is so dangerous as the after effects of defective vision and running ear. If we have the cooperation of the parents we can hope to prevent more cases, but we must have their co-operation.

There are still 14 cases of scarlet fever in Poplar, but there have been no new cases in the last week, which is most encouraging, since it takes one week for exposure to develop the disease. There are 2 cases in Abbotsford, and these have had scarlet fever for over two weeks now. The symptoms for which to watch in scarlet fever are very sore throats and a high temperature, accompanied by vomiting again, if your child has developed any of these symptoms, please notify your doctor or the school nurse.

Exhibit of Handicraft Work Shows Talent and Industry

Attracting a great deal of interest and invoking much admiration comment at the dramatic festival held in Abbotsford last week, was a display of handicraft products created by members of the night school classes conducted at the Philip Sheffield High School this spring.

Over 100 pieces of pottery were on exhibit, including vases, bowls, lamp bases, ash trays, candlesticks and jugs in many beautiful shades of green, blue, beige, red and bronze. Fashioned from Kilgord clay, and glazed and fired at the Vancouver School of Art, the articles were both beautiful and practical, and are a credit to the class and teacher.

Plant stands and basket of every size and shape were on display in the basketry exhibit. The finished products were most excellently woven, especially as the craft is comparatively new in this district. Local willows can be used in this work with excellent results.

Other splendid articles made by local ladies, under tuition of instructors appointed through the Official Trustee, Dr. W. Plenderleith, included hooked rugs hand-sewn gloves and a number of attractive garments made by members of the dressmaking classes.

Included in the woodwork display, were some really fine pieces of workmanship, including a wheelbarrow, chest of drawers, an easel and other useful articles, all made by men and young men residing in this district.

MT. LEHMAN

Mrs. M. M. Gamsby has returned from Langley where she spent a few days with her daughter Mrs. Harrower.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Macaskill and family of Vancouver were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Macaskill for the week-end.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips for the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. W. Cooling, Mr. W. Davis and Mr. E. Cooling all of Vancouver.

Mrs. G. West, Mr. and Mrs. Henry West and Miss Virginia Davies of Vancouver were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Taylor on Sunday.

A sewing circle meeting was held at the home of Mrs. R. Sidle on Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. D. Nicholson, Mrs. A. Ryder and Mrs. S. Nicholson.

NORTH POPLAR SCHOOL UN-ABLE TO ENTER FESTIVAL

Owing to the prevalence of scarlet fever in the district the North Poplar school pupils were denied the privilege of entering into competition with the other schools at the musical and dramatic festival. This was not only a great disappointment to the children, and adults too, but it was also a loss of entries in eleven events at the festival, as the children were booked for choruses, folk dances, etc.

MAGISTRATE BELL REFUSES TO COMMIT IN THEFT TRIAL

A case embodying a number of unusual features was held before Magistrate C. O'D. Bell, Matsqui last week, when William Fraser of South Westminster came up for preliminary hearing, on a charge of possessing stolen property. After hearing evidence for the Crown, the magistrate said he would not commit Fraser for trial, and depositions of the case will be forwarded to the attorney-general for instructions.

The stolen goods in question consisted of four tires, a battery and a can of grease stolen from the public works depot at Haney on the night of May 10 or morning of May 11. The tires and rims had been taken off a truck there.

EYRES WINS; LIBERALS STILL IN

Abbotsford, where there was a street procession with the band implemented by a few local players. During the night the party crowded the Conservative Committee room in the Odd Fellows' hall, where the successful candidate made a short address thanking the people for their support and the warm greeting extended at this time. The new Conservative member paid a splendid tribute to the C. C. F. and Liberal opponents in the elections and said he found both of them fair and honorable gentlemen who put up a fair and clean fight. His reference to Mr. Barrow, the defeated Liberal representative, was especially complimentary, adding that Mr. Barrow "is a grand old gentleman who has already promised to assist the new representative as much as possible in furthering the best interests of this riding."

A softball game will be played on the Jubilee grounds next Sunday, June 6, when the Niagara Hotel team will play the Abbotsford squad. The visitors, who have nearly all been out here before, with different teams, are a fairly strong outfit, and Abbotsford will need to go all out to win. It is hoped there will be a good turnout of spectators to the game.

J. Weir has been awarded the contract for the complete electric installation at the Whatcom Road community hall. Mr. Weir has recently been made agent in this and Mission district for the Iron Fireman, an automatic coal heating device.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Ball, who have been visiting their son W. H. Ball for the past three months, have lately joined their son Fred of Routledge Motors, and taken up residence at Mission.

Synopsis of Land Act

PRE-EMPTIONS
VACANT, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation and improvement.

Full information concerning Pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C.; Bureau of Provincial Information, Victoria, or any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes within reasonable distance of road, school and marketing facilities and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre east of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre west of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division in which the land applied for is situated, on printed forms obtained from the Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

Pre-emption carrying part time conditions of occupation are also granted.

PURCHASE OR LEASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes. Minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land, $2.50 per acre. Further information is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

As a partial relief measure, reverted lands may be acquired by purchase in ten equal instalments, with the first payment suspended for two years, provided taxes are paid when due and improvements are made during the first two years of not less than 10% of the appraised value.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, on conditions including payment of stumpage.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesteads, conditional upon a dwelling being erected on the first year, title being obtained after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under grazing regulations varying from time to time to meet varying conditions. Annual grazing permits are issued based on certain monthly rates per head of stock. Priority in grazing privileges is given to resident stock owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free or partially free permits available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

Reduce Varicose or Swollen Veins

This Safe Easy Way
Prove It At Small Cost

Swollen veins may become dangerous and sometimes break. Before resorting to operations or injections sufferers are advised to get an original bottle of Emerald Oil at George A. Black's or any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once with this healing oil. A small bottle will last a long time because it is very concentrated and a little goes a very long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush or finger tips as directed until the swelling is reduced. So effective is Emerald Oil that it is highly useful in reducing troublesome simple swelling due to strain and hastens their disappearance.

Kazuki Gomi, a poor barber of Nagano, Japan, who is a successful amateur astronomer, received word that Harvard University had awarded him the Pickering gold trophy for discovering a new star during the total solar eclipse last June.

Pilot Lorne R. Van Allen, 23, and Robert Walters, 18, a passenger, were fatally injured when a light Ottawa flying club plane plunged from an altitude of 60 feet into a field near Van Camp, Ont., 35 miles south of Ottawa.

Back To Nature

Despised Fly And Spider Are Useful To Astronomers

Astronomers still turn to the spider for one of the most necessary accessories of their meridian telescopes. For fine cross hairs, to stretch across the field of the telescope and mark the central line by which the passage of stars is to be gauged, there is nothing to excel a strand from a spider's web.

Even the unpopular housefly may furnish a serviceable part for a research instrument. An astronomer found a fly's wing useful in the construction of a delicate device for measuring the heat of remote stars. —April Coronet.

Gift From Queen Mary

The officers and men of the Welsh Guards have received as a memento of the visit of Queen Mary to the Welsh Guards' service at Wellington Barracks on St. David's Day an autographed photograph of King George V. in the uniform of a Field Marshal. It now occupies a place of honor in the Commanding Officer's room. In an adjoining room is the uniform of King George V. as Colonel-in-Chief of the Regiment. It is kept in an air-tight case.

The planet Jupiter has nine moons, and each one requires a different length of time to make its trip around the planet. Some travel more slowly than others, while their orbits vary greatly in size.

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from us directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemoroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

CAPTIVATING MADE-AT-HOME FROCK YOUR "BEST FRIEND" FOR SUMMER

By Anne Adams

It's certain to be your best "friend" this Summer—this joyous young frock! Surely you can use a versatile model that will "shine" on every occasion, and always be there when you want to look your charming best! Pattern 4372 is a joy for the woman who likes to sew at home, for it's one of the easiest models to cut, fit, and stitch up that ever you've seen. And just see the choice of necklines you have: wear the trim little collar high about your throat, with bodice accented by a row of bright buttons—or fold back your collar and accent the V-neckline with a saucy bow of grosgrain. Sleeves may wear a neat, button-accented band, and you've a beautiful flare to your skirt. Smart in crepe or synthetic!

Pattern 4372 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3½ yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin or stamps (coin preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly: Size, Name, Address and Style Number, and send order to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave. E., Winnipeg.

General Lee Was Fair

Spoke Well Of Officer Who Was Unfriendly To Him

Gen. Robert E. Lee was once asked what the thought of a certain young officer whom Jefferson Davis was considering for an important position. Lee gave the officer an excellent recommendation, and the young man was immediately promoted.

"That officer has said some very bitter things about you, General," some of Lee's friends told him, "and we are surprised that you gave him your recommendation."

"I was not asked," said the great-hearted Lee, "for the officer's opinion of me, but my opinion of him."

A Costly Spot

According to the Literary Digest, to become one of the 1,375 members of the New York Stock Exchange in a recent week would have cost you $160,000—the price at which a membership actually was sold. In 1929, a seat brought $625,000, then making the Exchange the costliest spot in the world in which to stand up. In dark 1932, however, you could have driven a bargain, obtained a seat for $68,000.

Dominion Drama Festival

Toronto Masquers Win First Place With "The House In The Quiet Glen"

Prize winners in the fifth Dominion drama festival were as follows: Bessborough trophy—The Toronto Masquers in "The House in the Quiet Glen," by John Coulter, Toronto Irish-Canadian.

Trophy for best performance in English apart from the Bessborough play—The Strolling Players of Vancouver in "The Barrets of Wimpole Street," and the Dramatic Club of the University College Alumnae Association, Toronto, in "The Cradle Song."

Trophy for best performance in French apart from the Bessborough trophy play—Le Caveau of Ottawa in "Francoise."

Sir Barry Jackson trophy for the best performance of a play written by a Canadian—The Toronto Masquers.

Lady Tweedsmuir's prizes for the best individual performances—Gay Scrivener of Vancouver, in the "Barrets of Wimpole Street," and Frank Rostance of Toronto, in "The House in the Quiet Glen."

Prizes given by Raymond Brugere, French minister to Canada, for the best individual performance in French—Florence Castonguay of Ottawa, in the title role of "Francoise," and Joseph Plante of Winnipeg, as the station master in "Le Voyage a Biarritz."

Took Close Calculation

To Get Canadian Pacific Ship Under Golden Gate Bridge

With masts clipped and added ballast in her holds, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain passed under the new San Francisco Golden Gate bridge.

The flagship of the Canadian Pacific steamship fleet, largest vessel yet to pass under the new span, cleared the arch with about 15 feet to spare.

Captain G. M. Parry, Nova Scotia-born commander of the 42,500-ton vessel, explained it took a lot of close calculation to enable his charge to enter the harbor. First it was figured when the lowest tide would be, then nine feet of mast were removed and the ship was loaded with ballast to make her ride deeper in the water. Safety nets strung under the bridge, where work is still in progress, were removed.

The clearance between the bridge and the harbor entrance is 220 feet at mean high water, but at low tide there are several additional feet of clearance.

SELECTED RECIPES

SALMON SALAD

1 tablespoon salt
½ cup sweet milk or cream
1 tablespoon Crown Brand Corn Syrup
2 eggs, or 3 egg yolks
¼ cup vinegar
1½ tablespoons gelatine
¼ cup cold water
1 can salmon (1 lb.), flaked
Method: Make salad dressing of first six ingredients. Soften gelatine in cold water; dissolve in hot dressing, stirring constantly. Beat until smooth with Dover beater. Add salmon; turn into greased mould. Chill; unmould on bed of lettuce. Garnish with parsley and hard cooked eggs or olives. Serve with Mazola dressing.

Additions: Peas, hard cooked eggs, diced celery or gherkins.

Revenue From Carelessness

Misdirected Letters Netted U.S. Government About $230,000 Last Year

Carelessness of people in addressing their mail meant a profit of approximately $230,000 to the United States government in 1936.

Commenting on this, Burton Cowles, of the Washington dead-letter division, said: "The number of foolish mistakes people make is almost unbelievable." There were 12,250,000 misdirected letters during the past year, he said. Of those, 108,454 contained $96,326, not counting small change.

The government revenue from all sources of this nature, including sale of unclaimed packages, recovery of unused stamps and fees collected for returning misdirected letters, totalled $229,353.

Opened Ball Season

Other towns may have their debutantes, mayors or governors to pitch that ceremonial first ball of the baseball season, but Chicopee, Georgia, chooses 96-year-old Mrs. E. J. Wilson. She officiated at the opening of the Northern Georgia League season.

It has been found that rays of the sun often are hotter in winter than they are in summer.

DICK GETS A NEW PARTNER

Of course, children should never drink tea or coffee. But do you realize that the caffeine in tea and coffee disagrees with many grown-ups, too? If you are bothered by headaches or indigestion, or find it difficult to sleep soundly... caffeine may be to blame. Why not try Postum for 30 days? Postum contains no caffeine. It is simply whole wheat and bran, roasted and slightly sweetened. It is easy to make, and costs less than one-half cent a cup. It's a delicious drink, too... and may prove a real help.

Try a can of Instant Postum. If at the end of 30 days you do not feel better, return the can and we will refund the price of the Instant Postum, plus the postage. Consumer Service Dept., General Foods Limited, Cobourg, Ontario.

The Strength Of Baldwin

His Speeches Will Sustain Comparison With Any Prime Minister

The strength of Mr. Baldwin has always been on his preaching side. Though he likes to figure as a plain business man and no orator, he is, in fact, an artist in words. Place his published volumes of speeches beside those of any Prime Minister during the past century, and they will sustain comparison in point of literary style.

More, he is an artist in emotions. His greatest oratorical successes in the House of Commons, from "Peace in our time" speech downwards, have always been achieved in cases where he could make timely appeal to a deep well of common sentiment, deeper normally in him than in his audience, but common enough to be capable at that chosen moment of appearing to them no less than to him to have the quality of an intimate native conviction.

But on the side of action Mr. Baldwin's strength was entirely tactical. Long-range strategy was not for him. To occupy (metaphorically speaking) strong ground; to lie low and hold your fire and not let yourself be tempted out by your assailant; and at the right stage in his proceedings to prostrate him by a volley timed to the moment—that was the Baldwinian formula. —London Spectator.

Intelligence Only Average

Scientific Rating Shows Horse Not As Clever As Supposed

"Horse sense" has been rated scientifically and found to be only average intelligence.

The popular conception of the brilliance of the equine mind was shattered by Dr. George Crile, director of the research laboratories of the Cleveland Clinic Foundation, in a report to the American Philosophical Society.

He said the horse is neither smarter nor duller than other animals of its class.

The Shetland pony, however, is brighter than the average. So is the elephant. The pig is the class dunce, but the giraffe is almost as stupid.

The crow stands at the head of the class in the bird family. As might be expected, the head-hiding ostrich wears the fool's cap.

Dr. Crile made the intelligence ratings on an expedition to South Africa. They were arrived at by comparing the total weight of the animal or bird with the weight of its brain.

Where Taxes Are Taxes

British Exemptions Are Low And Rates Are High

The high cost of armament is brought home to every Briton by the budget which Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, presented to the House of Commons. Hereafter five shillings in the pound (the equivalent of a quarter in each dollar) of an Englishman's income goes to the government.

Chamberlain, soon to be prime minister, had hoped to sweeten his entrance to 10 Downing Street by a reduction in taxes. But that hope was killed long ago when Europe began to re-arm, and Britain, unwilling but determined, felt constrained to join in the march of Mars.

It is difficult to compare American and English taxes, since in Britain the heaviest levies are national, while in this country the biggest part of the average man's tax bill is for local and state government. But the British income tax, with its low exemptions and high rates, now pushed even higher, on even moderate incomes, should give pause to those Americans who protest that they are being taxed to death.

Certainly the Britisher with a $5,000 income, a wife and one child, will envy his American cousin in the same income category. The Englishman will pay $585 income tax, the American $84. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Strange Sight In Paris

Each Year Church Tower Leans Farther From Building

The leaning tower of the Church of Notre Dame de Bonne-Nouvelle is one of the strange sights of Paris, states Arthur Dobson, manager of the American Express travel service.

Every year the tower leans farther from the church to which it is joined. Birds have abandoned the perilous belfry and only the weather-cock can hang on its perch. Once a rectangular clock, fixed in the side of the tower, told the time to everyone for blocks around, but to such pronounced inclinations the clock could not adjust itself. Someone compromised things by swinging the clock from a wrought-iron bracket hanging over the sidewalk. Its time to-day is correct to the minute.

Most birds nesting in dark places lay white eggs, which are more easily seen.

Viceroy Mendoza introduced printing into Mexico in 1536.

Gardening

During the early part of the season, a little cultivation every week will help plants along wonderfully. The purpose is two-fold. Unwanted weeds are killed and valuable moisture is conserved. Growth is hurried along. Later on as the flowers or vegetables develop it will not be necessary to cultivate so often. Sometimes a mulch of short straw or grass clippings is used to retain moisture during the summer. This mulch is simply spread over the ground between the plants. It keeps the underlying soil moist, open and free from weeds.

The importance of good seed is impossible to over-emphasize. Other factors may be beyond control, but the gardener has absolute check over this foundation. Weather, soil and location may be ideal, but without good seed, especially selected to suit Canadian conditions, the garden is going to be a failure. There is no guarantee that a flower which has given wonderful results in Great Britain or the Southern States will do equally well in this country, and because of this the average gardener is well advised to secure his seed and nursery stock from a reliable Canadian source.

Many fine points can be considered when laying out a flower garden. Certain shades blend well together and often a whole bed will be selected with this blending in mind. Of course, for this sort of thing all the plants must bloom during the same period. Fragrance should be taken into account as there are some spicy things like Evening Scented Stock, Nicotina, Mignonette, Sweet Sultan and Verbena which, while rather plain as plants, fill the whole garden with a delightful incense, more especially in the evening. In shaded quarters, tuberous rooted Begonias, Pansies and wild flowers will do well. In fact they prefer this location to any other. In partial shade nearly every annual can be grown. On poor soil Petunias is a favorite, as well as Alyssum, Sweet-scented Stocks, Linum, Calendulas, Calliopsis, Sunflowers, Schizanthus, Salpiglossis, Marigolds, Petunias and many others. These will also successfully resist dry weather.

The sprinkler head was invented by Henry S. Parmelee of Connecticut in 1874. It consisted of a perforated head with a valve which was held closed against water pressure by a heavy spring made of low fusing material.

Near the gate to the cemetery of Gettysburg is a signboard which stood throughout the entire historic battle. The sign reads: "All persons found using firearms in these grounds will be prosecuted with the utmost rigor of the law."

Rastus was bemoaning his wife's laziness to his friend. "She's so lazy," he said, "dat she done put popcorn in de pancakes so they'll flop over by demselves."

THE YELLOW BRIAR

A Story of the Irish on the Canadian Countryside
By PATRICK SLATER
By arrangement with Thomas Allen, Publisher, Toronto.

CHAPTER IV.—Continued

The next spring William Marshall was 21; and his father set him up in life after the fashion of the times. For livestock, he received with his father's blessing a yoke of young oxen, a heifer, due to calve later, and an elegant pair of small pigs. His farming equipment consisted of a wagon and its contents. There were a few bags of seed spring wheat and oats, some millet and seed potatoes. For tools he had, among other things, a crosscut saw, a rip saw, an auger, two cant hooks, logging chains, a cradle, and a keg of ironmongers' supplies. Early in the spring, his brother Maxwell went over with him, and the boys put in the first season's crop on the Marshall place. The cattle found good pickings in an old beaver meadow.

The large fallow of fallen trees was as dry as tinder. The lads made ready for the burning. Brush fire piles were laid in a hundred places and flaming torches of dry cedar passed quickly through the fallow. Within half an hour the entire field was a roaring mass of crackling flames shooting up to the sky in sparkling cones of fire. Great columns of whirling black smoke rose to drift in clouds over the valley for miles around. The heat was intense. Flames lit up the sky throughout the night and for days afterward the fire growled and smoldered in the great hardwood logs as it reduced them to powdery ashes.

Then the dirty work of making land began. The field was an ash pit with stumps sticking up in all directions and was littered over with half-burned logs and charred debris of the fire. The stumps could wait for a more convenient season. Scarred logs and great, cranky limbs were yanked into fresh piles, with much prodding of the rumps of the oxen, and the brandings were thus prepared for a fresh burning. Salty sweat stank on the young lads, who fought amid choking dust for every foot of farm land.

By the middle of May that spring the sower went forth to sow on the Marshall farm. The oxen pulled a triangular drag with wooden teeth in and out amid the stumps, scratching the black, inviting earth. The wheat was sown broadcast; and the drag did what it could to harrow the seed in. The oats and millet were sown next—and the land loved them. It was a slow, laborious task splitting cedar rails and fence-making to keep the cattle off the growing crops. And having done some of it myself, I speak with respect of the heart-breaking, back-hurting job of cradling lodged oats on a stumpy hillside. However, the harvest yielded two tidy stacks of grain; and they stood close to a log stable neatly thatched to keep the cattle and calf as snug the next winter as bugs in a rug.

In the fall of that year the first log-house was built on the Marshall farm, a one-roomed affair with a ladder to the loft; and it was up that ladder I climbed the first night I slept on the farm. The Marshall boys had wrought hard, early and late, whip-sawing out the rough planks for the floor and the sheathing for the roof. The shingles were cut on the job. Neighbors lent a hand at putting up the cabin.

Later in the fall, before his brother left him, William Marshall took a week off and went out to look himself up a wife.

CHAPTER V.

William Marshall walked across country by way of Woodbridge to the home farm on the 4th line of Markham; and there, nestled by an orchard, a warm welcome was awaiting him.

Poor, simple Willie Marshall! He was not faring forth to court a girl he loved. The mating season of his life was upon him and was hurrying him out a-hunting a woman to wife. He knew nothing of this specious, modern fiction that a man is only stirred to courting because of the bewitchery of some woman's charms. Neither, perhaps, did he realize that a youth out wife-hunting is as potter's clay in the hands of the first woman he meets who is also mating-minded.

The mysteries of sex influence are, of course, beyond the depth of a simple, old man, always living single; but somehow, old bachelors and bachelor girls spend a good deal of time musing on a subject about which they are supposed to know nothing. And why not? Religion, poetry and art are all saturated with its delightful influences. Heavenly Father, what a waste of driven snow a sexless life would be! The mystery of mating love may have its roots feeding in the earth out of which all life comes, but a flower is unlike the soil out of which it grows. I have observed a dirty-mouthed young scoundrel struck as mute and helpless as any honest minded lad by a slip of a girl with flat breasts and cheeks as white as milk. I have also observed a bold, bad woman, like Kitty O'Shea, fall desperately in love with a plain, pudgy little man, and be as timid and bashful about her love as any innocent, sweet country maid.

Romantic love had little to do with human match-making until a very recent date; and, even to-day, it seems to be, in the main, a home-smashing infection that catches idle men and silly women after they drift into the dangerous age of the forties. Farm has always married farm among the thrifty rural class in Europe—and the lad and the lass are thrown in with the acres. Bonds and mortgages marry mortgages and bonds among the town-dwellers; and the poor have always been lazy and listless in seeking far for their mates. Marrying love is distressingly mercenary among the Irish on the old sod. Unless she has a couple of Kerry cows for the dowry the emotional Celt demands that his bride be strong in back and legs for the carrying of the creels of turf. And after the songs are sung and the speeches made, something more enduring than love sickness is required to keep a home fire burning brightly in cabin or hall. Love of man and wife is a more sturdy plant. It is a cherishing, unselfish affection that pities, is long suffering—and forgives. To make a happy fireside clime for weans and wife, that's the true pathos and sublime o' human life.

The matter of finding a suitable wife for William became the subject of a lengthy and frank discussion between the young man and his parents. The matter was canvassed most diligently in the evenings, in that drowsy undertone in which folk discuss intimate things in the dark, after the others have gone to bed. Marriages may be made in heaven, but liveable ones usually require the services of kindly matchmakers, who discreetly steer the young man's fancy in a direction where a suitable girl is quietly waiting for the likes of him. Now, setting up house-keeping on a bush farm requires more than the cabin and a bride. There is also the bed and bedding, and the kitchen and other household gear the right sort of a father-in-law gives his daughter on her going-out from home. Local prospects were canvassed carefully, but without the Marshalls getting far in solving William's problem for him. Before he went out to work in service the lad had been too young to be on courting bent. Moreover, he had since been converted; and, after trial, had joined the Methodist Connexion. It was at a camp meeting at Hogg's Hollow, in a season of great power and glory, that he had been brought under the awakening of the spirit, and had been made the subject of saving grace.

Universe Not Expanding

Light Rays Coming From Distant Stars Get Tired And Quit

Light rays coming from distant stars "get tired and quit," just as a human being does, Dr. Arthur Haas of the University of Notre Dame, believes. Addressing the American Physical Society, Dr. Haas declared that this property of light means that the universe is not expanding, as some astronomers and physicists believe, but remains quite constant. Dr. Haas declared the light shifts because "photons" or particles of light, grow more and more tired until they eventually vanish.

What He Didn't Know

A gentleman in a bus was annoyed by the attentions of a fellow-passenger, who had been drinking, and was imparting various scraps of information in a dogmatic and aggressive manner.

Finally the gentleman said, "I am not interested in your information, sir, unless you could tell me something I don't know."

"Orl ri," said the other, "I'll tell yer something yer don't know. My sister's your washerwoman, and I'm wearin' one of your shirts."

The British yard originally was defined as the length of the arm of King Henry I, by royal decree.

"You say you sang at the Metropolitan Opera? What was the aria?"

"Ten thousand square feet."

Little Helps For This Week

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings. Ephesians 1:3.

Some murmur, if their sky is clear
And wholly bright to view,
And one small speck of dark appear
In their great heaven of blue:
And some with thankful love are filled,
If but one streak of light
One ray of God's great mercy
The darkness of their night.

The elements of happiness in this present life no man can command, even if he could command himself, for they depend on the action of many wills, the purity of many hearts. By the highest law of God the holiest must ever bear the sins and sorrows of the rest; but over the blessedness of his own spirit circumstances need have no control, for God has given unlimited power to every man to preserve his own happiness although there is in him something higher than that. He can do without happiness, and instead find blessedness.

Closely Resembles Linen

Paper Made From Wood Fibre Suitable For Clothes

Paper clothes, woven of yarn spun under water from wood fibre, soon may compete with linen finery.

The new yarn proved in tests to be stronger wet than dry, and neither stretched nor shrank with laundering or dry cleansing, according to a bulletin of Arthur D. Little, Inc., industrial chemists, Boston.

In appearance it most closely approximates linen, and this property has been a principal factor in present uses in shoe coverings, handbags and the newer sports suits. Continued improvement may make this paper product a significant addition to the present range of textile fibres, it is believed.

The fibres are less than three-hundredths of an inch long, as compared with individual cotton fibres which may be an inch long, and wool, linen and silk, which may be much longer.

Manufacturing On Prairies

Manufacturing in the three prairie provinces had an output of $235,000,000 during 1936 and gave employment to 200,000 persons, John East, chairman of the prairie division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, told members at the annual meeting in Saskatoon.

The first English pipes were made of clay. These have been manufactured for 350 years. 2202

Does Not Interest Women

Science Is Apparently One Subject They Leave Alone

Women are not interested in science according to Dr. Robert W. Boyle, director of Physics and Electrical Engineering at the National Research Council, who addressed the Ottawa Board of Trade.

Outlining some of the achievements of scientific research he said science had emancipated women by evolving all kinds of household labor saving devices. Yet in more than seven years work at the council on problems connected with electrical devices, treatment of foods and refrigeration he had not received one idea or suggestion from a woman.

"I do not believe women, speaking generally, like science or are interested in it," he concluded.

Churches built on English Crown land have not been permitted to ring bells since the Reformation.

The proper way to lift a rabbit is to grasp him by the skin just behind the ears, not by the ears themselves.

Will Keep His Promise

Sir Malcolm Campbell Not Trying For Land Speed Record

Fulfilling a pledge, Sir Malcolm Campbell has decided not to make any further attempts to break his own world land speed record of 304 miles per hour. "I made a definite promise to my family that if I reached the speed of 300 m.p.h. I would not make any further attempts on the automobile speed record," he explained. "I have reached 300, and I am to adhere to that promise, much to my regret."

But Sir Malcolm finds he cannot live without the thrill of speed. He has turned his attention from land to water.

For the last 18 months he has been engaged in construction of a new type of one-man high-speed motor boat. He hopes to try it out for the first time on Scotland's Loch Lomond in June.

On occasions, says the Archbishop of York, it is one's duty to kill. He must have a neighbor who plays a loud radio.

Drama Festival brings Out Youthful Talent

Final selections were made by the adjudicators, in the Matsqui-Sumas-Abbotsford School area musical and dramatic festival, last Thursday and Friday, and some very promising talent has been uncovered by the event, as well as an increased interest in the dramatic arts.

The judges, Major Bullock-Webster, elocution and plays; Miss Nancy Ferguson, folk dancing, and Mr. Stanley Bulley, singing and music, were all very highly pleased with the entries, and stated that the standard of competition in this, the first festival of its kind to be held here, was excellent.

The J. S. Daly cup, competed for by senior choirs, was won by Philip Sheffield High School. The Abbotsford Lumber Cup, for junior choirs, was won by Abbotsford elementary schools, grades 5 and 6.

The D. Willan Shield for folk dancing, was won by Class II, Abbotsford elementary school.

Matsqui High School was awarded the Department of Education trophy for enacting the best play.

Diplomas were awarded to the following individual winners:

Elocution
Grade 1: Audrey Gleeson, Lindsay Nielsen.
Grade 2: Donna Stewart, Donald Preston.
Grade 3: Donna Weir, Louis Kantor.
Grade 4: Shirley Baynes, Robert Carmichael.
Grade 5: Dorothy Kench, Harry Nielsen.
Grade 6: Vivian Golos, Billy Fraser.
Grade 7: Margaret Weir, Charles Leavitt.
Grade 8: Jeanette Gustafson, William Cameron.
Grade 9: Mary Butcher, John Swanson.
Grade 10: Aileen Mullin, George Maguire.
Grade 11: Doris Norrish, Charles Kench.
Grade 12: Frances Wilson, Albert McMahon.

Choral Winners
Grades 1 and 2: Abbotsford Elementary; Grades 3 and 4: Peardonville; Grades 5 and 6: Abbotsford Elementary; Grades 7 and 8: Highlands Consolidated; High Schools: Philip Sheffield.

Vocal Solo Winners
Junior Girls: Gloria Smith; Junior Boys: Allan Crist; Senior Girls: Eva Wilson.

Pianoforte Winners
Junior: Beryl Stafford; Intermediate: Peggy Anderson.

Folk Dancing
Class 1: Abbotsford Elementary; Class 2: Abbotsford Elementary; Class 3: Abbotsford Elementary.

Plays
Matsqui High School: "The Man in the Bowler Hat".

On Friday evening the finalists appeared in a concert in the high school auditorium, with Paul Kozoolin as master of ceremonies. Besides a large number of school children, almost 500 adults attended the event, and were very well pleased with the program. Eva Wilson, winner of the senior girls' singing class, who possesses a very pleasing voice, was greatly applauded by the audience, as was the display of tumbling.

Duncan McDonald, who has been confined to St. Paul's hospital in Vancouver for several months as result of an accident while working in the Pioneer mines, visited in Abbotsford on Monday. He returns to the hospital again this week to undergo another operation to his back.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Byatt spent a week holidaying in Victoria. Mr. L. Buck, who has operated a dry goods store in Abbotsford for several years, has ceased operating a store here and has gone into business at Dennison. His premises in the Safeway block have been taken over by E. Burns, who will occupy the entire store space, instead of half, as formerly.

Motion pictures showing the construction of the Coulee Dam in Washington will be shown in the Sheffield High School on Thursday, June 10, at 8 p.m. These films are being loaned to Dr. Wm. Plenderleith by the United States Government, and are of unusual interest. On the same evening there will be a film showing the progress of modern engineering, and in particular, Diesel engines. There will be no charge for admission.

Dan Smith, of Abbotsford, has obtained a position for the summer months as bake on the "Prince George" tourist boat, which travels from Vancouver to Skagway.

SAVE MONEY ON YOUR Fly Spray

Keep your cows free from flies and get maximum production from them. Use Watkins Fly Spray which kills and repels. In addition, it is clean and will not discolor or gum up the hair of your stock nor will it burn the hide or cause discomfort as heavy oil sprays do. It will not taint milk. You can use it before milking and in the milk house. Watkins Fly Spray is cheaper because it goes further.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY
Watkins new improved Fly Spray now gives higher kill and a knock-down three times faster than before. It repels flies and mosquitoes longer. Yet get more for your money because you use less.

I am taking orders now for summer delivery. Wait for my call and I will show you how to save money.

AS CLEAN AS TOMORROW

We pride ourselves on the neatness and cleanliness of our Hotel and Dining Room. There's quality about what we have to serve and excellence about the way we serve it. No doubt about any feature here. No danger of an untidy room or an unpleasant meal—for everything is up to the highest standard.

Come right in for dinner today. Cuisine perfect; service unequalled
